MILLER INDIAN LANDS FRAUD IN LIGHT OF PROBE

Bundle of Letters From
Interior and Justice
Departments Read

FALL MIXED IN DEAL

Harrell's Voluntary Testimony
Reveals He Took Steps
To Retain Peck

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—Details of the Miller alleged Indian land frauds in Oklahoma were reviewed by the senate Daugherty committee today.
A bundle of letters passing between the justice and interior departments and officials and individuals were read into the record and several witnesses questioned as to why criminal prosecution of the case resulted only the imposition of fines and why no civil suit to recover the lands was ever instituted.
One of the letters showed that Albert F. Fall tried while he was secretary of the interior to secure a postponement of the trial but the department of justice replied that the criminal suits must go forward.

Most of the letters were presented by Edwin S. Booth, who served under Fall as interior department solicitor.

Senator Harrell of Oklahoma made a voluntary statement to the committee disclaiming any political interest in the prosecution saying that he only urged action because he felt that everything should be done to protect the interests of the government. He had learned to his surprise, he said, that the justice department had asked for nothing but fines against those found guilty and that it had made no move to recover the lands which are a part of the 101 ranch.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Senator J. W. Harrell, Republican, Oklahoma, made a voluntary statement to the senate committee of justice investigating committee today relative to his activities in connection with the prosecution of the Miller Brothers Indian land fraud cases in Oklahoma.

He went to Attorney General Daugherty, the senator said, when he heard that Mr. Todd, Mr. Daugherty's former law partner, had been retained by Miller Brothers. He urged that Herbert Peck, former United States district attorney at Oklahoma City, be retained to prosecute the cases and that this was done.

"THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE HOME," SAYS MRS. MAGNUS JOHNSON; GOES THERE

Mrs. Magnus Johnson caught in a quiet hour in the Johnson home in Washington, and a glimpse of her on the farm.

There's no place like home, Mrs. Magnus Johnson, wife of the Farmer-Labor senator from Minnesota, will tell you. Homesick—and sick of the lights and bustle of a large city—Mrs. Johnson packed up, closed the home the Johnsons rented in Washington, and went back to the farm in Minnesota, leaving her husband in a hotel room. "It's just until congress adjourns; he can stand it that long," she said. Her trip to Washington with her husband when he went to enter the senate was the first time she had ever been out of Minnesota.

TWO MEN KILLED IN KLAN BATTLE

State Troopers Investigating
Visit of Klansmen to Mining Town

(By the Associated Press)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 7.—While state troopers and county detectives continued their investigation of Saturday night's fight between residents of the mining village of Lilly and visiting klansmen in which two men of the town were killed, District Attorney D. P. Weimer at Cambria today prepared to enter charges of riot and murder against 23 men. Twenty-five of the persons said to be klansmen, were arrested here as they stepped from the train which brought them from Lilly after the fight. Four residents of Lilly were arrested there by state police.

Arrangements were being made for the funerals of Philip Conrad and Floyd Paul who were shot to death. Little hope was entertained for Frank Masco who was removed to an Altoona hospital. He was shot in the head. More than a score of others were less seriously wounded including four women who police reported were attacked when they cheered the parading klansmen. In a statement made public today S. D. Rich, an official of the Klan, said the klansmen were not responsible for the fight.

"They were forced to defend their lives when assaulted," he said.

Kamela to Discard Mask.

(By the Associated Press)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 7.—The national convention of the Kamela, a women's secret order, meeting at Claremore, Oklahoma, voted to abandon the hood as part of its regalia. Mrs. Sallie Osborne Copper, national committeewoman from Alabama, announced today.

One Chair Saved From Delegates To G. O. P. Meeting

(By the Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, April 7.—Although the management of the Cleveland public hall is making elaborate preparations, including extensive remodeling, to place the hall and its complex equipment at the disposal of the Republican national convention here in June, one article of furniture will be withheld. No delegate, no national committeeman, however high in the councils of the party, will be allowed to sit in a certain leather-covered arm chair. It is the chair which Calvin Coolidge occupied at a bankers' convention held in the hall, when he was vice-president.

The state manager of the hall had the chair taken from the stage to his private office, where he vows it will remain, vigilantly guarded. "Anyone who wants to sit there will have to fight to get it," he avers.

"Blue Laws" Not Unknown in Cow-Trail Days of Ada

People who complain of stringent city ordinances that curb their demand for a greater degree of personal freedom need only to turn back the pages of Ada's history to find that pioneers, who herded their cows through Ada's main street, had a code of far-reaching town ordinances that bound them to untold respectability.

Those weary with life in Ada as it is might have truly howled their dismay over the village of Ada, I. T., back in 1901 when the most lenient town ordinances smacked diligently of common "blue law" ingredients.

A few of those remaining to tell of the wondrous growth of Ada from a cowboy's town back in the territory to the modern metropolis may remember that driving a buggy on the sidewalks was a very serious offense, according to the city ordinance passed by the city dads on June 10, 1901, and was punishable by a fine or free board in the city's hoos gow.

Those wise old pioneers, who look askance at the invasion of a newer generation well remember the extreme penalty as set out by another popular ordinance which made it a grave crime on the town's respectability to walk or ride down the street of the town with a woman of questionable character.

Hogs Checked from Roaming
Ah, those were the perilous days too when one's hogs were prevented from roaming at large, thereby removing an inconvenience to store keepers and ladies who strolled about town in several yards of durable material that swept the ground.

Reforms were in order, too, in those wild and woolly days of 1901 when our forefathers arose

TOWN OFFICIALS FACE CHARGE OF ATTENDING ORGY

NUDE WOMEN MENTIONED

Warrants Charging Perjury
Served on Signers of Affidavits

(By the Associated Press)
ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 7.—Three warrants charging perjury were issued for the arrest of Walter Tyndall, a local printer and active church member, by City Magistrate Border today. The warrants were issued on the complaint of three local business men who were alleged in an affidavit written by Tyndall to have attended a dinner at a Deal inn last Thursday at which city officials indulged in drinking and witnessing improper dancing.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., April 2. Local officials and business men today were busy explaining to their wives as a result of sermons which six clergymen preached yesterday charging that Mayor Clarence Hetrick, county and city officials and business men attended a banquet Thursday night at an inn in Deal where it was stated that the guests drank much liquor and women danced.

The sermons constituted the first step in a campaign against bootlegging and immorality launched by the Civic Church league and the Ku Klux Klan.
Allegations regarding the banquet were based on an affidavit made by Walter C. Tyndall, a merchant, who charged that four policemen guarded the inn; that there was drinking and that five women brought from New York gave an improper exhibition. He was said to have taken to the dinner with him a private detective supplied by the Anti-Saloon league.

The churches were crowded as a result of an advertisement in which the Civic Church league announced that revelations would be made. Tyndall's affidavit was submitted to Prosecutor Sexton.

Mayor Hetrick admitted he had attended the dinner but denied anything improper had taken place in his presence. He said there was "no vulgarity, no drunkenness and no nude women and that the women in the cabaret were properly clothed. Other officials supported his denial while Henry H. Leibing who arranged the dinner said he had been accused of having "too tame a party."

Declares Martial Law In Albania After Two Americans Are Slain

(By the Associated Press)
ROME, April 7.—Martial law has been declared in Albania following the murder of two American merchants on the Tirana-Skutarri highway, according to advices from Albanian quarters. A dispatch to the Stefani agency which first reported the crimes last night, says the Americans killed were named Coroman and De Long but gave no particulars.

The names of the murdered Americans were given out by the American embassy as Robert Louis Coleman of San Francisco who was waylaid and murdered on an Albanian highway were on their way to Paris and London after a trip through the Mediterranean countries. Richard Lounsberry, son of Mrs. DeLong declared.

The two men left here January 26 and went as far as Constantinople.

Ada Ball Club on Final Practise Week For Opening Game

Manager A. O. Green of the Ada Independent club started the old ball to rolling for the final week of practice before the opening game here Sunday with Shawnee of the Oklahoma State League.

Old heads and recruits have been chasing the ball all over the lot in their ambition to secure permanent positions on the team but Manager Green would only announce a tentative lineup for the opening game Sunday.

Green stated that the team would take advantage of the sunshine and whip into shape for the opening encounter. Regular workouts will be followed during the remainder of the week, favorable weather permitting.

Approximately 30,000,000 citizens in rural sections are being served by the postoffice department.

METHODISTS START REVIVAL MEETING

Capacity Audience Grets Pastor in opening of
Revival Sunday

Favorable weather conditions and the opening of the pre-Easter revival meeting at the First Methodist church filled that edifice of worship to capacity in Sunday morning and afternoon services.

With the firing of the opening guns of the revival meeting under the leadership of Rev. R. T. Blackburn, pastor of the church, members expect a large number of confessions and additions through the revival which will close Easter Sunday, April 20.

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bonney Sunday to take charge of the song services of the revival brought two of the most prominent church singers to Ada. They conducted the song services Sunday and easily won the hearts of their listeners.

Mr. Bonney met with the young people at 6:45. He gave a "Negro Spiritual" that was appreciated and made an earnest appeal to the young people for co-operation in the work of the meeting, requesting their presence at special meeting each evening 7:00 to 7:30.

The first half hour of the evening service was given to song. Mr. and Mrs. Bonney sang a duet and Mr. Bonney gave a solo. The great congregation responded splendidly. It was a good service. The pastor preached on "God's Plan for a Revival."

The other pastors of the city are to occupy the pulpit each evening this week. The public cordially invited to attend.

PROBERS DEVOTE SESSION TO OIL FUND IN POLITICS

Contributions of Jake Hamon
Further Probed Through
Other Witnesses

FRENCH IS WITNESS

Tells of Hamon's Statements
About Spending Money
At Convention

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—The senate oil committee devoted another session today to its inquiry into the stories of oil deals and oil contributions in the political campaign of 1920.

Four witnesses followed one another in quick succession. Wilbur M. Marsh of Iowa, former treasurer of the Democratic national committee, said that he must consult the committee's books before he could tell how much E. L. Doherty contributed to the Democratic fund in 1920; W. L. Kistler, president of the Producers and Refiners Corporation of Tulsa, Okla., disclaimed any connection with Republican campaign collections in that year; J. B. French of Oklahoma City told the committee Jake Hamon had informed him that he had spent about $400,000 in the 1920 election and of $25,000 he had given to pay hotel expenses of Harding convention headquarters in Chicago, and Robert F. Wolff, publisher of the Ohio State Journal at Columbus insisted that he had no first hand information about the 2 o'clock hotel conference on Harding's nomination and had never heard until recently of an attempt to make an oil deal for the nomination of Leonard Wood.

French identified himself as an oil operator.

"Did you know Jake Hamon?" asked Senator Walsh.

"Very well," said the witness. "I was associated with him in business from 1917 until the time of his death."

French said Hamon had discussed with him before hand his plans concerning the 1920 Republican convention. Hamon had wanted first to be Republican national committeeman for Oklahoma and then to help nominate General Wood.

"While the fight for national committeeman was on," the witness added, "he and General Wood broke and then he went for Governor Lowden. It was his intention to control the Oklahoma delegation."

"I do not think that the president had any place Jake Hamon would have accepted," French said "and after the nomination of Harding I asked Hamon if he would be in the cabinet and he told me he would not."

Claims Hamon Spent $400,000
Asked what Hamon's campaign for national committeeman had cost French said Hamon told him it cost "too much" and was sorry he got into the fight; that after the general election, French said Hamon told him he had spent $400,000 through 4,000 persons in Oklahoma.

Records showed Hamon was a heavy borrower of money. French said, and added that he did not know whether any of the loans negotiated in New York, Kansas City, Oklahoma City, St. Louis and other places had been obtained at about the time of the Chicago convention.

"Did Hamon tell you what he expected to get out of all this?" pursued Senator Walsh.

"No," French replied.

Hamon was quoted by the witness with having said he had told the national committee he would take care of Oklahoma in the general election. Senator Spencer, taking up the cross-examination, asked French if he was a Democrat.

"Yes, a Texas Democrat, thank God," was the reply.

"Was anything ever said by Hamon about oil land leases?" asked Senator Spencer.

"Nothing whatever."

"How was the $400,000 payment disbursed?" asked Senator Stanfield, Republican, Oregon.

"It was sent out to various persons," the witness said. He added that the $400,000 was Hamon's own money.

Aged Man Behind Bars for Shooting Of Capital Man

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 7.—Dave Lesser, 71, is behind the bars in the Oklahoma county jail today awaiting the outcome of injuries to H. M. Akers, 50, whom Lesser is charged with having shot yesterday morning in an alleged argument over a washed out road near their homes in Capitol Hill, a suburb.

Akers rested well in a local hospital last night and has an even chance to recover, according to attendants. If he dies, however, charges of murder will be preferred against Lesser, according to C. E. Riggs, county evidence man.

Atta Boy! Free swims. If you are a scout and have registered or if you attended the Life of Christ Course Classes and if you are at Glenwood Park Swimming Pool at 2 o'clock sharp, Wednesday afternoon you will get a free swim. The American Legion has kindly given us this privilege. Mighty fine of our Legionnaires. They have always been good friends of the Ada scouts.

Ada scouts assisted much in the search for three lost children Thursday. We are mighty glad that they were found and returned to their parents.

Chief of Police Sam Hargis has a good opinion of the scouts. He called up the scout executive Friday and asked for three scouts to patrol the cars parked at the Convention Hall.

The Kiwanis club of Ada has asked for fifteen or twenty good husky energetic scouts to meet at the City Hall with them Monday morning at 8 o'clock and go to the Byrd's Mill Park to assist in cutting the underbrush and clear out a road way through the park. Be sure and bring your axes, and a good strong right arm and a willing spirit to work. Your appetite will be looked after all right and you will have a good time too. We are for the new park. Let us as scouts do our part with the Kiwanis to make this the finest park in all Oklahoma for that is what Mr. Jensen, the state landscape expert regards it and he says all that we need to do it to open it so that the people can get to it.

The following scouts won the individual prizes in the Life of Christ Contest. The judges of the papers of the scouts of Ada were Rev. J. H. Schalpbach of Francis and R. T. Blackburn of Ada.

James Haralson of the college Junior High and a member of troop 7 won first place.

Otis Clark, troop 7, of the college, won second place.

Prize to James Haralson $6.25 offered by Judson Treadwell, scoutmaster of troop 2 and the scout executive, Judges Rev. R. T. Blackburn and Rev. J. H. Schalpbach.

Lawrence Weaver of troop 9 and Billie Bonner of troop 3 tied for first place among the scouts of Ada of the ward schools. Prizes offered by the same parties as above. The scouts living out of Ada won prizes as follows:

High school scouts, John Kerr of Latta Consolidated school and Ferney Hutchinson of Allen tied for first place. Prize of $6.25 to be divided between them. Offered by the same parties as above.

Grade school scouts winning outside of Ada who were the winners are Victor Hughes of Roff, 12-year old scout wins first place with a very excellent paper and Leon Simpson of Fitzhugh won second. Prizes of $3.00 to first and $2.00 to second were given by First Methodist church of Ada. Judge Rev. R. T. Blackburn of Ada.

The patrol of rural scouts winning the free camping trip was awarded to one of the patrols of Vanoss. It was awarded on the basis of the number of scouts taking the examination, the scout work done, and the high average of each member of the patrol.

The prizes will be rewarded Sunday morning, June 1st at the Sunday school of which you are a member.

Now let us get down to our other scout work, sure enough. School is out. Our time for advancement in scouting is right upon us. Let us all get busy. Pontotoc county Boy Scout Council has a great reputation all over the state and even at the National Headquarters for doing big things in scouting and in character work for boys. We must live up to that reputation and our former achievements.

We have recently made some charts. These charts show the relative standing of every scout in Ada and also his patrol and troop. We will watch your advancement with interest. Get busy on merit badges, first class and second class work. If you are any ways near an eagle scout, go on and finish up. There is Harrison Meaders for example and Ed Gwin, and Raymond Duke, three husky scouts who ought to finish up their work and attain the highest rank of Eagle. Then there is Geo. Kitchell and Hubert Laird who have been hanging around the Eagle scout rank for two years that we know of and if they don't get there this summer we will make them quit wearing those great Mexican sombreros.

Lawrence and Glenwood scouts played a game of ball Friday and Glenwood won by the score of 8 to 3.

Camping season will begin June 8th to 15. Talk to your scoutmaster about when he can get off for a trip and let's get to the woods at once.

ROAD BONDS CARRY IN OKMULGEE COUNTY

(By the Associated Press)

OKMULGEE.—(Special.)—The $400,000 road bond issue carried yesterday in Okmulgee by a vote of 10 to 1, while the entire county vote was estimated today by officials as 8 to 1.

A few rural districts in the north end of the county voted against the issue, notably North Beggs, which stood two for the issue and eight against.

Dave Armstrong, county clerk, declared this morning he would not begin a count of the votes until late today. A few of the precincts had not reported to J. Will Baker, secretary of the county election board, with the ballot boxes this morning.

Those in a position to know declared that the figures already compiled from the precincts reporting would show a final vote of nearly 2,700 for and possibly 300 against. The vote was light throughout the county.

McDONALD'S APPOINTMENT DISPLEASURES RADICALS

OKLAHOMA CITY.—(Special.)—Announcement today by Governor Trapp of the appointment of A. A. McDonald of Hugo to take the place of the university board of regents of C. J. Wrightsman was followed by a storm of criticism from radical Democrats.

McDonald was one of the leaders of the constitutional Democratic organization last election, and supported John Fields for governor. He is an attorney for the Frisco railroad, and the radicals construe his appointment as an indication of Governor Trapp's intention to put an end to recent progressive developments at the university, including the enlargement of the extension department through the establishment of workers' courses.

McDonald's appointment is considered practically as offensive to the radical element as would have been that of E. K. Gaylord, publisher of the Oklahoman.

STUDEBAKER WINS ENDURANCE RACE

Veteran Auto Racer Drives
Studebaker Special to Victory.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 26.—Earl Cooper, a veteran automobile racing driver when many of the present generation of speed pilots were in swaddling clothes, has arrived here with his Studebaker Special as his mount in the Twelfth International 500-mile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

A Great Star
In the days of yesteryear—when Johnny Aitken, Gil Anderson, Tom Rooney, Dario Resta and Barney Oldfield were the stars in automobile racing's electric lights—Cooper was a star of the first water.

He was a first placer in the sizzling road races as well as on specially constructed speedways. Then he went into retirement and followed the more prosaic existence of a business man on the Pacific Coast.

Suddenly he announced his return to the track. That was two years ago. He jumped into Joe Thomas' car the day of the Frisco Cal., race after Thomas was stricken with appendicitis and had to submit to a trackside operation.

A Lesson in Speed
Cooper drove the car into first place, giving the group speedsters that had come to the top during his retirement a lesson in the art of getting around a speed bowl a required number of times in the shortest period.

He was second in the Fourth of July race at Kansas City last year and second at Beverly Hills, Los Angeles in 1922. Cooper's best run at Indianapolis was in 1915 when he ran fourth. In 1914 he was the road race champ.

Cooper is of the studious, mechanical type, who keeps a detailed series of charts and notes on the actions of his racing car. These should be invaluable to the Studebaker Corporation, under whose banner Cooper is racing.

Welcomed by Mayor
Cooper was officially welcomed on his arrival here by Mayor Lew Shank. His blue speed creation is attracting much attention.

Reeves Dutton, also of the older school of mechanics, is with Cooper this year, assisting the racing driver in preparing his car for the 500-mile race.

CAR THIEF DOING LARGE BUSINESS

Motorist of Today Needs
Device That Will Puzzle
Skilled Mechanic.

(By ERWIN GREER, President Greer College of Automotive Engineering, Chicago.)

The automobile thief is doing a big business of late, and the police records show a large increase over that of last year. How, then, can the car manufacturer bring out a more or less standardized anti-theft contrivance that will really prevent a car from being stolen, and what would be the characteristics of this perfect lock?

The motorist of today needs badly a contrivance that can be locked or unlocked from the car seat by the driver, or else something that will automatically remind the driver of its existence before he starts the engine again.

Something to Confuse.
Something which merely prevents the engine from being started in the ordinary way is of absolutely no use.

For example, if the self-starter is disconnected by the car owner, there would be nothing to stop two or three men from starting the engine by pushing the car with the gears in mesh. Why not give the thief constructive, rather than destructive work? Let him build up instead of tearing down. Destruction is much more simple than construction, and it can be done with most any tool. Any prisoner, given time and a saw, can eventually break jail, therefore, if the device will break a connection of some sort, perhaps something that would temporarily prevent the engine transmitting power to the differential, it would be more likely to confuse the thief than a mere locking device, which could easily be destroyed, and allow the car to be driven away.

It isn't the fact of getting the better of a thief with only a few minutes' time in which to work out his getaway. It's got to be something that will puzzle the skilled mechanical thief, who has no longer time in which to accomplish his work.

Lock Gear in Neutral.
The majority of old-time motorists' suggestions seem to turn towards some device which will lock the gear in neutral, and, by the way, there are already numerous devices of this kind in existence, many of them operated with a Yale key. The keyhole is in reach of the driver, but in such a position as to make it awkward for the thief who tries to file off the device. But here again is a destructive rather than a constructive job, which brings us to where we started.

You, as a car owner, should take extra precautions if you go to unusual risks, in the way of leaving your car unattended. A few simple mechanical changes would help complicate the thief's job and, in many instances, save your car.

Come on, you tinkering mechanics—set your ingenious brains to work on this most needed of automobile problems. There is big money for the man who succeeds in this venture.

Spark Lever Intended to Control Ignition Timer

The spark lever is for controlling the ignition timer or breaker which causes quick impulses of high-tension current to pass through insulated wires to the sparkplugs. When the spark lever is retarded the timber is in a position where the contact points separate and send current to the plugs just at or a little past beginning of power stroke of each piston. When spark lever is advanced the timer moves to a corresponding position, creating impulses before each piston reaches beginning of power stroke, when the engine develops more power and speed.

PREPARE ROADS FOR RUSH DURING SUMMER

County roads will be the scene of considerable activity this summer in the efforts of the county commissioners to keep them in good condition for the traffic they will have to bear.

With coming of warmer weather the commissioners began their campaign of getting the roads into shape and they have been busily engaged since in working on them. At present their efforts are confined to grading with some further improvements in mind later in the summer.

At present much attention is being paid to the Ada-Stratford road, which is the highway most used for getting into and out of Ada, while much work is being done on the roads in Maxwell township.

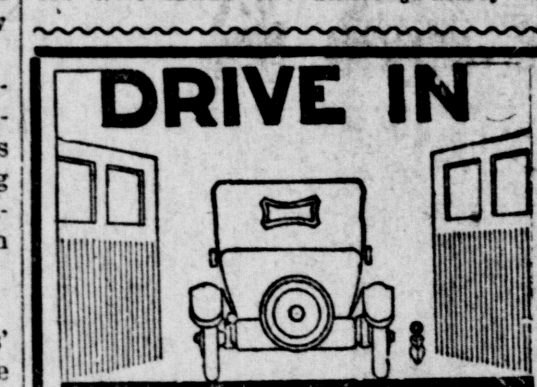

Work on the Canadian toll bridge is progressing steadily, according to the commissioners. The north pier is complete, the excavating for the south pier done and the tubes in, and some work completed on the other sections. It is hoped that the bridge will be ready for traffic by the first of August.

CHICAGO MURDER STILL DECLARED STRANGE MYSTERY

Solution of Murder of Son of Millionaire Still Lacking

MAY TRACE LETTER

Companion of Lad Also Missing; Trying to Link Disappearance

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 26.—Mystery still shrouds the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks, son of Jacob Franks, retired millionaire pawnbroker and manufacturer.

The body of the boy was laid to rest yesterday afternoon attended by classmates at the private school which he was leaving when last seen alive last Wednesday.

Early today three men riding in an automobile answering the description of a machine said to have loitered near the private school attended by young Franks, several days before he disappeared, were seized at Summit, Ill., about twenty miles from here, and brought to Chicago for questioning.

There were some efforts to connection disappearance of Miss Barker, 17, with the kidnapping of young Franks. The girl has been missing since Wednesday when she left an academy near the school attended by the murdered lad. Her usual course homeward would have taken her past the corner at which the boy was last seen.

Miss Barker's relatives fear that she might have been a witness of Franks' kidnapping and therefore was taken along by the kidnappers.

For that reason efforts to find the kidnappers were increased.

A florist who sent a wreath bearing the name Johnson to the funeral of the kidnappers' victim is positive he could identify the man who gave the order. The letter demanding $10,000 ransom sent Mr. Franks after his son was dead was signed "George Johnson." The flower sender was described by the florist as of the type built up in theory by police as the possible owner of a pair of spectacles found near the boy's body.

The police continued to examine typewriters and opticians' prescriptions. The ransom demand was well worded and the prescription was carefully worked out.

TROUBLE LOOMS IN JAP MEETING

Anti-exclusion Demonstration Causes Militaristic Meeting in Tokio

(By the Associated Press)

TOKIO, May 26.—Ten thousand Japanese former service men who now are army reservists took part today in an anti-exclusion demonstration at the national military shrine here and adopted a resolution asking reservists of the entire country to unite for the sake of their fatherland.

"In view of the nature of the American-Japanese situation," the resolution added, "the Tokio association of reservists declare the determination to fulfill at a moment's call the duties of its members as military men."

Shinkichi Uyesugli, noted nationalist speaker, in an address to the reservists, declared it no longer was possible to reach a satisfactory compromise with America on immigration.

"If history teaches anything," he continued, "an eventual collision between Japan and America on the Pacific is inevitable."

Another speaker, Lieutenant General Bunjiro Horinouchi, one of the heroes of the Tsingtao campaign, told the ex-service men, "we must be determined to endure what hardships are necessary in avenging the insult which America has done our country."

ADA TEACHERS TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Summer Months to be Spent in Many Sections by City's Teachers

Teachers in Ada's city schools will be widely scattered within the next few weeks, some going as far west as California, others to Chicago, while others will take different directions.

The majority of those who will spend the summer elsewhere than in Ada are going to universities of the highest repute to work on further scholastic advancement or toward the attainment of more degrees.

Many will remain in Ada but practically all of those who will be teaching or taking classes in East Central. Almost the entire group of teachers will be engaged in teaching or studies during the summer.

Six members of the city faculties are serving as special instructors at the local college during its summer session. They are: W. A. Hill, J. L. German, C. R. Cox, Mr. Wick Adair, K. W. Harris, Mrs. Jessie Bagley and E. E. Emerson.

The city system will be represented by several members in the class which will receive degrees from East Central.

Others who will spend the summer elsewhere are: Grace A. Guthrie, who has already left for her home at Pleasant Hill, Illinois.

Mrs. Charles M. Bliss, who will leave in the latter part of this week for Akron, Ohio, where she will visit her daughter.

Willie Faye Corbin has already left for her home at Chickasha.

George L. Dougherty will be in Shawnee through the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Garrett, both teachers in the system here, will attend Colorado University at Boulder, Colorado.

John B. Tatum is spending the summer in Tennessee.

Mrs. Almada Alexander has left for Fort Worth, Texas.

Hazel Strohm leaves this week for Kansas where she will visit relatives.

Irba McCulloch leaves this week also for California to visit and attend school.

Frances Skerritt will attend Howard Payne college at Brownwood, Texas.

Violet Moore will attend school in Los Angeles, California.

A group of Ada teachers, composed of Willetta Driskill, Effie Lawton, Mrs. Annie C. Byrd, and Ruby Hawkins, will take advanced work at Berkeley, California.

Ada will be represented in the summer student body of Chicago University by Annie Lee Bolton, Mrs. George Hansard and Anna Livest.

C. G. Whitwell will attend Oklahoma university as will Guy Meador.

PREPARE TO REOPEN PROBE OF FORBES OFFICIAL ACTS

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 26.—Federal officials prepared today to reopen the federal grand jury investigation of the administration of the veterans bureau under Col. Charles R. Forbes former director. Subpoenas were prepared, it was understood, for many of the witnesses called in the original grand jury proceedings last February.

Col. Forbes and J. H. Thompson, Chicago-St. Louis contractor, are under indictment in connection with the case.

GOSPEL TEAMS HAVE SUNDAY SERVICES

The gospel teams of the Men's Bible class of the Baptist church held services at Pickett and Vannoss Sunday afternoon. Both places report good meetings and friendly visits.

At Pickett the church house was filled and the congregation spent almost two hours in songs and talks. Talks were made by Lee Huber and W. D. Little, and shorter talks were made by many others present. Rev. T. V. B. Mullinax and Rev. Moses Wesley were present to welcome the visitors. Eight or ten were there from Ada.

Pickett is considered one of the best communities in the country and there is a unity of purpose and a brotherly feeling among the citizens exceeding most of them.

Vannoss also turned out in large numbers to welcome the workers. Robert S. Kerr was the principal speaker and delivered a ringing message for Christian citizenship. J. C. Hynds was also present and added enthusiasm by his few remarks.

TAX BILL PASSES HOUSE MAJORITY

Overwhelming Vote Assures Conference Tax Bill Of Passage

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The conference tax bill already passed by the senate was approved today by the house. The vote was 437 to 9.

Providing reduction for almost every federal taxpayer, the measure now goes to President Coolidge. It carries a 25 percent reduction on income taxes payable this year, permanent revision downward of the income rates, repeal or lowering of most of the miscellaneous and excise taxes, and a 25 percent reduction on earned incomes of $10,000 and under.

Although some doubt exists as to President Coolidge's attitude in view of the treasury department's opposition to the provisions for limited publicity of tax returns and an increase in estate taxes, republican leaders in both the senate and house joined the democratic lineup in support of the measure.

A brief debate developed in the house and engendered considerable opposition in republican ranks to the proposal for even limiting publicity in returns and several announced if the measure was vetoed they would vote to sustain the action.

(By the Associated Press)

PRESIDENT SIGNS IMMIGRATION BILL WITH EXCLUSION

Claims Text of Entire Bill Accepted to Meet Urgent Need

EXCLUSION RAPPEL

Statement of President Outlines Policy Following Conference

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The immigration bill was signed by President Coolidge today. Despite the provision modifying Japanese exclusion effective next July in the measure against the protest of the president, he decided because of other considerations to approve the bill. It was pointed out that inasmuch as the present immigration law expires June 30, a veto might have made it necessary to rush an emergency measure through during the closing hours of the session.

Such a step, the president felt, would not be practicable in view of the tangled legislative situation and the certainty that any emergency measure provision would be beset with amendments and possibility of being blocked altogether.

A statement by President Coolidge declared that he based his approval on the necessity of the occasion as a whole demanding a bill of this general character.

If the exclusion provision stood alone the president said he would have disapproved it without hesitation.

The president's signature was affixed to the bill after he had conferred with Secretary Hughes and had devoted the week end to a study of the measure and reports made to him by the state and labor departments.

The house passed the bill by a vote of 322 to 72 and the senate 62-6. In the house measure the exclusion provision would have taken effect July 1. This was amended by the senate to take effect immediately. While the legislation was in conference the president appealed directly to the conferees urging a postponement of taking effect of the exclusion provision until March 1, 1926, so that negotiations with Japan could be taken up, but the conferees refused to accept his plan.

Ross Is Selected Chief Surgeon on O. C-A-A Railroad

Dr. S. P. Ross has been appointed chief surgeon and general medical director of the Oklahoma City-Ada-Atoka railway company, with local physicians under his direction at the various points on the road.

Dr. Ross says he has made arrangements for all hospital cases to be brought to Ada and this will mean much in a material way for the city.

The position is considered a good one, and was sought by surgeons and physicians all along the line.

Much of the administrative work of the railroad is now being done in Ada and more is expected to be brought here within a short time.

Presbyterians Put On Peace Armour In General Meet

(By the Associated Press) GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., May 26.—The Presbyterian general assembly today unanimously adopted a resolution pledging itself "to the outlawing of war and to the hastening of the day when nations shall learn to war no more."

Definite indication of the possibility of a reunion of the two groups of Presbyterians in this country was seen today in an announcement that Dr. Thornton Whaling, moderator of the Presbyterian church in the United States south, will pay a friendly visit to the general assembly. It will be the first time a moderator of the southern church has ever visited the assembly of the parent body.

Editors' Program At Fort Sill Is Halted by Rains

(By the Associated Press) LAWTON, May 26.—The game of war today was postponed temporarily because of rain when a heavy downpour delayed the extensive artillery demonstration of the United States army which was scheduled to be executed at Fort Sill in connection with the visit of members of the National Editorial association.

Officers in charge of the demonstration said it would take place later in the day regardless of weather conditions.

Other alterations of the day's program, including a sightseeing tour of the Fort Sill reservations, were abandoned because of the precipitation.

WOMAN AND CHILDREN DROWNED IN CREEK

(By the Associated Press)

ABILENE, Tex., May 26.—A wall of water rolling down a creek after an automobile had been stalled near here last night drowned three children of Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Lockett of Abilene, and a young woman student of Simmons college, said to be Miss Willie Rogers, according to information received here.

The party drove into the swollen creek and the engine of their car stalled. Dr. Lockett made his way to shore and proceeded to Hamby, a small town nearby to summon help. Mrs. Lockett, Miss Rogers and the three children climbed to the top of the car. Suddenly without warning a big rise coming down the creek struck the car, turned it over and threw the five into the rushing waters. Mrs. Lockett was washed down the creek about 200 yards finally grasping a tree branch and pulling herself to safety. Reports here are that she is severely injured. A search was under way today for the bodies.

PRESBYTERIANS DEDICATE CHURCH

Opening of Church Attended By Packed Audiences At All Services

Sunday was Presbyterian day in Ada, a capacity congregation gathering to witness the formal opening of the newly completed church building, this being the first service held in the auditorium.

A musical program had been prepared for the occasion by the choir of nearly 30 voices and by the orchestra, but the feature of the occasion was the new pipe organ, the second to be installed in Ada.

Following this was a highly inspiring sermon by Rev. E. O. Whitwell, the pastor. Rev. Whitwell had little to say of the triumphal conclusion of the building campaign, but sought to impress on his hearers the supreme end of the church which was extending its sphere of activity and bring more into the kingdom. It is the spiritual side in which he places the supreme importance, the building being merely incidental to that end.

Following the service, N. B. Stall took a photograph of the congregation assembled in front of the building.

In the afternoon another gathering assembled at the building and some excellent talks were made by those who cared to say a few words. Organ music was rendered by Prof. Conte of Shawnee.

The evening was devoted largely to an organ recital by Prof. Conte. It was attended by a large and enthusiastic audience.

This has been designated a week of jubilee by the church and other churches of the city have accepted. Turn to Page 3, No. 1

ENROLMENT HITS HIGH SCALE FOR SCHOOL OPENING

Halls of East Central Are Jammed With Students For Summer Session

EXPECTS BIG GAIN

Twenty-five Assist Registrar in Handling Large Number of Students

Coming by train and automobile, students ambitious to advance their scholastic standing are pouring into the city for the summer term of East Central Teachers College here.

They come from all parts of the district, and from counties outside the regular East Central section and even from other states. School teachers make up the larger part of the enrolling body, but there are many who have this spring finished high school and are anxious to begin their college work.

The twenty-five teachers in charge of the task of enrolling and classifying the immense numbers of visitors and local college people have been working at a capacity rate all through the day. Most of the local students, including many who attend the college during the winter term and high school students and graduates, arranged for their work last Friday and Saturday.

All parts of the district are represented in the crowd applying for classes today. Several counties are expected to double their previous summer delegations, while the college authorities are confident that all of them will be represented by larger groups than last year.

Students are also coming from other states in greater numbers than ever before. Arkansas and Texas are the best represented states after Oklahoma, with some from Kansas and Missouri.

Familiar Faces Seen. Many familiar faces may be seen in the halls and rooms of the buildings, hurrying about or greeting friends. Reunions of old friends are frequent as oldtimers in East Central's history return to the school for further training.

The summer faculty is thickly sprinkled with the names of persons who in the past have been led into the profession by their attendance here, have gone out and secured eminent positions in the finest systems of the district, and are now called in to assist the regular teachers in training another group in the same profession.

The department handling applications for class observation and practice teaching has been swamped with the number who wish to complete their life certificate work. Indications are that the sophomore, or life certificate class will be much larger this summer than ever before.

27 in Summer Degree Class. About twenty-seven or twenty-eight persons are expected to complete the work required for degrees, thus forming another record class. Several of the degrees to be granted this summer are bachelor of science, but most of them will be bachelor of arts degrees.

Miss McCain, who has been secured by the local Methodist church to do religious work among the women attending through the summer, will conduct a class on the Bible and missions. This class will meet at eight o'clock each morning in the college auditorium and will command two and a half hours of college credit.

Those in charge of the enrollment estimate that at least six hundred students classified for work during last Friday and Saturday. They also expected to complete the entrance of between a thousand and twelve hundred more students during the day. This work will continue on a large scale through the entire week.

It is believed that advance estimates of a total enrollment of 2500 will be easily accomplished.

Park Beautification Postponed When Rain Hinders Pilgrimage

The beautification of the Byrds Mill-Kiwanian park and the awarding of the prize for the naming of the park must wait until weather conditions are more favorable, those in charge of the campaign announced today.

The heavy downpour of last night prevented the caravan of picnic workers from journeying to Byrds Mill this morning and striking the first note in the renovation of the park into a recreation center for Ada and the surrounding country.

According to Kiwanian leaders, the beautification of the park will be postponed until a later date to be announced.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

IS NOT THIS THE FAST that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?—Isaiah 58:6.

A GRACEFUL COMPLIMENT.

One of the most graceful and courteous tributes that has come under our observation recently was the act of George W. Marble of Fort Scott, Kansas, first vice-president of the National Editorial association, at the Saturday session of that body. Under the unwritten law of the organization Marble was to be elected president.

However, as the association divided its time between pleasure and business, a pathetic figure lay on a sick bed at El Reno. This was Edgar S. Bronson, for many years past was as highly esteemed by the editors of the nation as by those in his own state of Oklahoma. For 10 years he had battled to bring the national association to Oklahoma and when he at last succeeded the meeting found him critically ill and intensely disappointed at not being able to attend and perform his duties as a host. It was to him that the thoughts of Mr. Marble turned and he requested the nominating committee to displace him by putting Mr. Bronson in nomination, and furthermore saying that he did not wish to stand in the way of others who aspired to the vice-presidency. His request was granted and Mr. Bronson was unanimously elected.

It is highly probable that before his term has progressed very far Mr. Bronson will pass away but it will be with the knowledge that his colleagues of the newspaper fraternity appreciated his service and that he had a friend who was willing to put aside his own ambition in order that the association might pay its highest tribute to him.

Personally the writer feels very grateful to Mr. Marble. To us Mr. Bronson has for years been a very close friend and we have not the words to express our high regard for Mr. Marble and his unselfish action.

OKLAHOMA MAKES A HIT WITH EDITORS.

While attending the meeting of the National Editorial association at Oklahoma City and El Reno Saturday we heard many expressions of praise from editors outside the state for the open handed cordiality that had greeted them at every turn in Oklahoma.

Few of these editors had much idea of Oklahoma. One from Illinois told us that he had always imagined Oklahoma was a sandy semi-arid region but he had found himself slightly mistaken. One from South Dakota remarked that when the association met in New York state last year they had been gouged for a dollar every time they turned around, while in Oklahoma everything was free. Others expressed themselves as agreeably surprised and much gratified with their entertainment here. Hence, it is safe to say that Oklahoma will be given a line of publicity in the future far different from that given heretofore.

At El Reno a feast was spread for several hundred, all El Reno turned out to make the occasion the success that E. S. Bronson would have had it. Members of the chamber of commerce and other business men donned aprons and acted as waiters acquitting themselves most creditably.

We were assured that all other places in the state had also done everything possible to make the stay of the visitors a pleasant one. The News congratulates one and all on the success of the occasion.

Every once in awhile some new heir to the famous Edward estate, the mythical Drake fortune in England and other such will o' the wisps make a roar about their prospects but thus far no one has been disturbed. Generally when sounded to the bottom these claims are the result of the work of some shyster lawyer who gets a nice fee for "investigating" the claims of his client whom he must kid along while the kale lasts. When that is used up we hear nothing more of these claimants.

The advice of the Oklahoma Leader, the socialist organ which whooped it up for Walton two years ago and then became a bitter enemy when George Wilson was fired, is for the socialists and leaguers to vote in the Democratic primary and then if they fail to nominate their candidate, just bolt the ticket entirely and vote for a third party. In short, it is a policy of rule or ruin; one that amounts to demanding that the Democrats surrender their organization or else be knifed in the general election.

The National Editorial association came out flatfootedly in favor of the enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment and laws passed under it the same as it favored the enforcement of other laws. However, the power of the press is not quite as great as was stated by the mayor of Guthrie who insisted it could enforce the dry laws.

The army appropriation bill carries $330,000,000 and the navy will probably run as high. And yet the United States has the reputation of being the most peacefully inclined nation on earth.

Let a NEWS WANT AD get it for you.

U. S. RUNNERS TO FLOOD OLYMPIC

American Speed Men Promise Well For Olympic Marathon

NEW YORK, May 26 — America's hopes in the marathon, classic distance feature of the 1924 Olympic games at Paris in July, will be higher than at any time since the spectacular triumph of Johnny Hayes 16 years ago at London. That year, 1908, Hayes was victorious after Dorando, great Italian runner, collapsed when within sight of the finish. Over-zealous officials helped Dorando across the line, but he was disqualified and Hayes, the next finisher, was awarded first prize.

One other American victory shows on the records of the seven Olympic marathons held since 1896. That was in 1904, at St. Louis, when Hicks breast the tape first in the long grind.

Since 1908, however, no American has finished better than third, although the wearers of the Stars and Stripes, as a whole, made a formidable showing at Stockholm in 1912. In that race, Gaston Strobino took third place, behind McArthur and Gitsam, the South Africans' while six other Yankee runners were in the first 12 finishers.

This year the United States will send its best long distance men to the start with particular confidence placed in Clarence H. DeMar, 38-year-old Melrose, Mass. athletic marvel who established his right to lead the Yankee squad when he won the Boston marathon, final Olympic tryout, for the fourth time, shattering the American record and bettering the Olympic record for the distance of 26 miles, 385 yards.

DeMar's time for this race was 2 hours, 29 minutes, 40 1-5 seconds, only a second slower than the recognized world's marathon record hung up by Willie Kolehmainen at Newark, N. J., in 1912. Willie's brother, Hannes, won the Olympic marathon for Finland at Antwerp four years ago and set a new standard for the games of 2:32:35 4-5.

DeMar is a marathoner of the type of Tom Longboat, famous Canadian Indian. He is long, lean and apparently tireless. He holds his arms exceptionally high, and derives very little power from their swinging. His legs are slim, but well muscled at the calves and back of the thigh. Seldom during a race does he change his pace, regardless of whether he is going up or down grade. DeMar finished twelfth at Stockholm in his only Olympic marathon appearance.

While chief hopes probably will be pinned on the Melrose star, Uncle Sam has two other brilliant runners in Charles L. Mellor, of Chicago, and Frank E. Wendling, of Buffalo, a newcomer to marathon ranks. They finished second and third, respectively, in the Boston tryout. William J. Churchill, of San Francisco and Carl Linder, of Boston, also are members of the team, while the sixth man will be chosen from Frank Zuna, of Newark, N. J., and Ralph Williams of Quincy, Mass.

Zuna, who won this year's Baltimore and Detroit marathons, was regarded as the best of the pack until he dropped out of the Boston race because of stomach trouble. If he returns to form by the time of the Olympic event he will be strongly favored.

Chief among the rivals of the American runners will be Kolehmainen, who will attempt to make Olympic history by repeating his 1920 triumph.

Winners of the Olympic marathon since 1896 and their times follow:

1896 Athens, Greece, 2:55:20.
1900 Paris, France 2:59:00.
1904 St. Louis, U. S. A., 3:20:53.
1906 Athens, Sherring, Canada, 2:51:23 3-5.
1908 London, Hayes, U. S. A., 2:55:18 4-5.

1912 Stockholm, McArthur, S. A., 2:36:54 4-5.
1920 Antwerp, Kolehmainen, Fin. 2:32:35 4-5.

NEW ELECTRIC POWER PLANT NEARLY READY IN BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO—What is said to be the largest hydro-electric power development in South America is now nearing completion on the Parahyba River near this City. For more than two years an organization of about 3,000 men, under the direction of a staff of American engineers and construction men, has been building dams, canals, powerhouse, and transmission lines which will generate and distribute 162,000 electric horse-power over a large zone in this part of Brazil.

It is expected that the new plant will be in operation by June of this year.

Make Ice Electrically

Electric Power Drive has revolutionized the ice making business, by substituting for inefficient mechanical prime movers the quiet, safe, efficient.

Electric Motor

The Modern Ice Manufacturing Plant no longer needs a complicated system of belts and shafting. Electric motors can be direct-connected to compressors and pumps, thereby reducing power losses and providing greater safety to employees.

The Use of Electric Power results in a superior product because electric drive is clean, eliminating contamination from engine oils, grease, dirt, etc. The steady character of the load insures low operating costs.

Central Station Electric Power has helped to extend the field of ice-making and mechanical refrigeration to a great many new uses. It will pay you to let us study your requirements and submit recommendations for electrifying your plant. This consulting service is free, and does not obligate you in any way.

MUSICAL TREATS AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The congregation of the Presbyterian church are rejoicing today over the triumph of their efforts for the past two years and the completeness of the finished production. The costs and toll are forgotten when a task is finished that gives complete satisfaction to the soul and heart. The congregation alone is not the only ones who are rejoicing as was evidenced by the crowded church auditorium at the morning services, afternoon reception and the organ recital last night. The pipe organ under the fingers of Mr. Paolo Conte carried convincing proof to the hearts of organ committee and church that their time and study of organs had not been misspent. It is an instrument of beauty in tone quality, and construction and for the cost, it is beyond all expectations.

The organ recital by Mr. Conte was pleasing in every detail. His selections met with applause of every listener in the house, his style of playing, technique and interpretation was a joy to the musicians and those not musicians alike. The compositions of the master musicians when played by an artist such as Mr. Conte always satisfy as no other music can. Our modern so-called music writers of light jazzy noises were forgotten by the jazziest listeners for Bach, Wagner, Donizetti and the gems from Mr. Monte's own portfolio such as the "Prelude in D" and "Remembrance" and "Love Song" and his beautiful encores.

The program for tonight by Mr. John Knowles Weaver of the College of Fine Arts of Tulsa will be full of good numbers and will be given

PRESBYTERIANS OUT TO ASSIST CHURCH

Claim Christian Education is Basis For Living
Church

(By the Associated Press)

GRAND RAPIDS, May 26.—That Christian education is a basic requisite for a living church is one of the keynotes sounded in the first annual report to be presented tomorrow to the Presbyterian General Assembly in session here by the new Presbyterian Board of Christian Education. The report is to be made by Dr. William Chalmers Covert, general secretary.

In the reorganization and consolidation of Presbyterian agencies as now represented in the Board of Christian Education Dr. Covert finds that the Presbyterian church is at last undertaking to face the problems of Christian education with genuine educational earnestness, with well-recognized educational standards in mind, and with educational ideals dominant. A comprehensive program of Christian culture, making its contacts with the group from the youngest children to university students, is now under way through a well-articulated organization of all Presbyterian educational activities. The comprehensive plan of the board carries its educational purposes into adult life. It also includes an educational approach to the practical subjects in the realm of temperance, moral welfare, and Sabbath observance, in the knowledge that Christian education holds the key to an intelligent and loyal church leadership and a truly patriotic citizenship.

Dr. Harold McArthur, Robinson, secretary of the division of Christian education in the home, church and community, says that only one child in four now receives any organized Christian instruction. In a typical American commonwealth, while 47 1-2 cents of every municipal dollar goes into public education, only 2 3-10 cents of every church dollar goes into the Sabbath school. For the department of moral welfare, Dr. Charles Scanlon, general director, stated that slowly but surely the nation was accepting prohibition as the permanent policy of our country. He charges that anarchy and vice were at the base of opposition to prohibition. The Presbyterian church had been active in the prohibition movement from its beginning.

Discussing motion pictures, Dr. Scanlon demanded that the ideals of our young people concerning the family, social relations, religion, justice and honor must be safeguarded, and this, he said, could not safely be left to the discretion of half a dozen men who keep their eyes on the receipts of the ticket window rather than on the morals of the young.

"The motion picture," continued Dr. Scanlon, "is here to stay. It has great possibilities for good or evil. But when an enterprise as large and influential as this business is, seeks to dominate politics, dictate legislation, control the press, influence education, mock the Protestant ministry, ridicule the Sabbath, encourage immorality, cheapen marriage, promote crime and often blaspheme religion, it is time that the church of Jesus Christ awakens to its responsibility and duty." He urged that the Presbyterian General Assembly again declare strongly in favor of some measure which will provide adequate local, state and federal control in such manner that each shall supplement the other.

Concerning divorce, Dr. Scanlon said that it was a rapidly growing social cancer seriously threatening the country's moral foundation, spiritual welfare and social integrity. In one state there were more divorces than marriages.

Dr. Harry L. Bowby for the Christian Education Board's Sabbath observance department reviewed the work accomplished throughout the nation in fighting Sabbath desecration. Among the accomplishments noted were the stopping of naval maneuvers at Galveston on Sunday, the stopping of a government Sunday air circus and army maneuvers on Long Island, the defeat of the Sunday Business Bill in the New York State Legislature, the Sunday Sports Bill in New Hampshire, the Anti-Sunday bills in Massachusetts, the Commercial Sunday Sports Bill in Connecticut and other anti-Sunday bills in Michigan, Wisconsin, New Jersey and elsewhere.

SWEDES TO ENFORCE NEW BUSINESS METHODS

(By the Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, — Believing that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, representatives of a number of industrial organizations in Sweden have formed a central institute for the prevention of graft. The function of the organization is to keep an eye on any persons in business who are exposed to the temptation of bribery, and to nip in the bud any attempt at corrupt practices. The membership includes the association of hotels and restaurants, and associations of brewers, dealers in lumber, hardware, automobiles, books, paints, the corporation of iron masters, importers of coal, etc. While there have been no cases of corruption on the part of high public officials, there have been a few cases of petty graft recently where unwarranted personal commissions have been collected by agents for deals carried through. The new institute has broadcast demands for confidential reports of suspicious circumstances. There will be investigated immediately, and where guilt is found, the offenders will be brought to justice.

TO DEDICATE HOME TO AGED PEOPLES

Only Free Institution For Care
Of Aged Gentlefolk Now
In New York

NEW YORK, May 24.—The only free institution in this country, is not in the world, devoted solely to the care of the aged gentlefolk, once in good circumstances but now impoverished—and their maintenance for life in the ease to which they have been accustomed—was dedicated here today by the trustees, of which Samuel Untermyer is the head.

This unique benefaction is the Andrew Freedman Home and is named for its founder, capitalist and baseball magnate, who died December 4, 1915, leaving approximately $5,000,000 for this charity. One-half immediately became available. The balance was left in trust by the decedent for his mother and sister and will ultimately revert to the home. In his will Mr. Freedman specifically directed that the institution should be strictly non-sectarian and that in case a husband and wife were admitted as guests they should dwell together.

Surrounded by velvety lawns, the impressive structure of limestone—pure French in design—occupies the center of an entire square at 166th street and the Grand Concourse. Without its wide stone terraces it is 192 by 76 feet and is four stories in height. It is the last word in construction and in architectural beauty, and its interior decorative effects, designed by a noted Parisian artist, are both simple and charming. In reality the Home is a hotel luxuriously appointed in which the guests will never be presented with a bill.

Services Start at Church of Christ On East Main St.

On Sunday, May 25, Rev. C. L. Wilkerson of Springfield, Mo., began a series of meetings at the Church of Christ on East Main St. Rev. Wilkerson, comes to Ada highly recommended as a devout preacher of the Gospel, teaching only those things found in the New Testament. Those who heard him last year were especially pleased with the earnest, zealous and simple manner in which he presented his lessons.

Much interest is being shown in the meeting. Large audiences were present at both morning and evening services and it is expected that the attendance will increase as the meeting progresses.

Services are being conducted daily from 3 to 4 p. m. and from 8 to 9:15 p. m. Rev. Wilkerson announced that he would close promptly at this time in order to give those who have other duties, time to carry on their work.

On Sunday morning Rev. Wilkerson's talk as directed chiefly to Christians, telling the duties of a Christian and why one should be a Christian.

Everyone is invited to attend these meetings which will continue for two weeks.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are pumped by the heart into the face. That is what causes that grainy appearance, that muddiness, sallowness, pimples, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify! The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red-blood-cells, and quickly the ruby tint of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes venus-like and immaculate! Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red-blood-cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

EVERY DAY BRINGS NEW PRAISES OF KARNAK

Business men, professional men and many women whose common, practical judgment guides them in all their acts are now testifying to the wonderful merits of the famous new medicine, Karnak. L. R. Powers, one of Oklahoma City's best known contractors, residing at 1401 E. 13th street, says:

"Last January I had an attack of the flu that left my whole system in such a weakened, rundown condition I never seemed able to pick up or regain any of my strength afterwards. My appetite was gone, I couldn't relish a mouthful of food, and as so wornout I never felt like work or anything else."

"Well, I have taken two bottles of Karnak now and it has sure put me back on my feet again. I relish my meals, that wornout feeling is all gone, and I feel fully capable of attending to business. Karnak certainly does the work and I can't recommend it too highly."

Karnak is sold in Ada exclusively at Gwin & Mays and in Stonewall at Chas. Burnett's.—Adv.

"ENOCH ARDEN" PROVISION IN NEW CZECH MARRIAGE LAWS

PRAGUE—The newly formulated bill regulating marriage in Czechoslovakia contains an "Enoch Arden" clause. It provides that, in the event of the return of a husband thought dead after the woman has remarried, he has no legal rights that can affect the new marriage.

The conditions that prevailed throughout Europe in the period just after the war, when the return of men missing or reported dead to find remarried wives, was an ordinary affair, probably inspired the law.

Otherwise the marriage act as framed follows those of most countries. Both civil and religious ceremonies are recognized. The marriageable age for males is fixed at 18 and for females 16.

AMERICAN VALOR AT SEA HONORED

Monument to be Dedicated to "Americans Lost at Sea"

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A new shrine to American valor at sea is to take its place soon among the monuments and memorials here in the nation's capital to the great dead of America. Wrought in bronze, it will stand at the brink of the peaceful Potomac that the river may bear with it to the sea a message of remembrance to those who have gone down to the sea in ships for war or plodding merchantmen, never to return.

It will be a natural monument to those through all the years who have served in the navy and merchant marine on the sea, and it will be dedicated to "Americans Lost at Sea."

Across the wide river, high among the rolling Virginia hills, are the clustering monuments and shafts of Arlington National Cemetery where many who died heroic deaths rest amid their military honors.

But the new tribute to the valor of those who have died at sea in war or in peace will stand close down beside the river with the quiet waters lapping it as they pass on to join the sea beyond the Virginia capes. It will be built by popular subscription to cost $500,000 or more and already the site has been set aside by law and the form of the memorial itself been decided by the members of the committees who are for the most part, men who have served America on the waters all around the world.

The spirit in which this new altar of patriotism has been conceived is told by Rear Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, (retired), chairman of the committee in charge of its erection. "There is no such monument anywhere in the world," Admiral Fiske said.

"There is no monument that attests any appreciation by men and women of the dangers which the men of the sea have braved, or the conquest of these dangers which they have achieved. There is no visible reminder of our debt to the men of the sea for securing that safe passage of the sea which has welded widely separated countries into a coherent world.

"Though monuments to military commanders adorn selected spots in all the civilized countries of the earth, only a few monuments to naval men exist, and virtually all of these commemorate war achievements only. The long and hazardous voyages of merchant seamen who made the ocean safe for commerce and spread civilization over the earth, though told in song and story, have never received the recognition which all men know to be the highest; that of an enduring monument, erected on some exalted spot, where it can be seen of men.

"Such a tribute it is the intent of the Navy and Marine Memorial association to render the men of the sea; but it will memorialize, as well, those from whom the supreme sacrifice was not required, but who braved the same dangers as those from whom it was required, and stood equally ready to make it. It says that the countless millions who have profited by their work that they must not forget that work, or neglect the men who did it.

"So, while this monument symbolizes the grandeur of the sea, it powerfully suggests the grandeur of the seaman's art, which has made a conquest of the sea and marked a myriad of paths across its forbidding waters. And it calls upon every one to visualize what seamen have done for him, and to pay a rightful tribute to those who, thru all the dim centuries of the distant past, has gone down to the sea in ships, and have done their business in great waters."

Associated with Admiral Fiske on the executive committee are Walter F. Firth, treasurer; William F. Firth, secretary; Anna M. Graham, Colonel Robert M. Thompson, Colonel Edward A. Simmons, Ray C. Shepherd and Herbert N. Davison, headquarters of the committee being New York City. The honorary national committee is headed by Secretary Wilbur of the Navy Department as chairman, and includes Assistant Secretary Theodore Roosevelt, Admiral Leigh C. Palmer, president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, Major General John A. Lajeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, and Rear Admiral William S. Benson, U. S. N., retired, of the Shipping Board.

The National Committee includes Admirals Eberle and Coontz and Rear Admirals Wilson, Jones, Plunkett, Josephthal, De Steiguer, Scates and Welles and numerous others of the navy as well as civilians interested in naval and merchant marine matters. The Women's Committee is headed by Mrs. Edwin Denby, wife of the former secretary of the navy, and includes the wives of many naval and merchant marine officials as well as Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, wife of Representative Longworth, house majority leader.

Washington Annals Citizenship.

NEW ORLEANS, May 26.—After residing in New Orleans virtually all his life, believing himself to be an American and exercising a citizen's suffrage, William Dixon Seymour has learned in federal court that he is a British subject. Seymour was born in Mexico of British parentage and his father was naturalized by the confederacy during the civil war.

The discovery that he was a British subject was made when Seymour attempted to obtain a passport to visit Europe. It was denied by the state department upon the ground that he could not prove his American citizenship. At the same time it was held that rights granted by the confederacy were not legal.

Nicotine Dust Plant Lice.

STILLWATER, Okla.—Nicotine dust is one of the best insecticides for general use, says G. F. Bieberdorf, assistant entomologist at Oklahoma A. and M. college. It can be bought or prepared at home.

Nicotine dust is prepared by mixing nicotine sulfate (black leaf "40") in hydrated lime, one pint of nicotine sulfate being mixed with fifty pounds of hydrated lime. The mixture should be stirred constantly. To make the mixture complete, sift it through an ordinary screen and the dust will be ready for use.

This preparation has a strength of 1 per cent and may be used for any of the plant lice that attack the garden and field crops, such as melon lice, turnip lice, greenbug or cotton lice.

Nicotine dust can be applied by the use of any dusting machine suitable for cotton dusting, or even in a large tin can with numerous small holes in the bottom.

The application should be made soon after the dust is made up, as it deteriorates with age. Best results are obtained if the applications are made in the warmest part of the day, when no moisture is on the plant.

An advantage in the use of nicotine dust is that it gives immediate results, another is that it is easier to apply than liquid sprays. There is no danger of poisoning such plants as lettuce or celery, such as there is in the use of arsenicals.

As most soil require lime, the lime used in the preparation of nicotine dust can be utilized as a fertilizer, thereby giving full 100 per cent in return for every dollar spent Bieberdorf says.

C. E. Sanborn, professor of entomology, has approved Bieberdorf's nicotine dust theory, saying that he has found it effective in use against flea beetles, cucumber beetles and leaf hoppers, as well as against plant lice.

SPELLING OF EGYPTIAN NAMES STANDARDIZED BY AMERICAN

CHICAGO, May 26.—The style in Egyptian spelling seems likely to be set for the English-speaking world by an American. The orthography of the names of Egyptian historical characters varies sharply among scholars, the same personage, for example, being given appellations as mutually remote as Amenophis and Ahmenhotep.

The editors of Cambridge Ancient History, credited with being the leading authorities on Egyptology, have informed Prof. J. H. Breasted of the University of Chicago of their intention to follow his usages in the spelling of Egyptian names. Prof. Breasted was a prominent figure in the opening of Tut's tomb.
